

93rd Stonehaven Cup 2023

PROGRAMME

RS Quest Dinghy Class

3rd to 8th January 2023

Hosted by

ROYAL MELBOURNE YACHT SQUADRON

Winners of the 92nd Stonehaven Cup: Hamish Gilsean, Mietta Rael & Maddie Crawshaw aboard *ASC RS Quest

Royal Melbourne Yacht Squadron has been involved in the Stonehaven Cup since the 1930s and is delighted to be hosting the 93rd series.

While the 12 ft Cadet Dinghy is significant in the history of RMYS and the Stonehaven, the introduction of the RS Quest has enabled an expansion of the competition.

Special mention to King Island Boat Club for sending three crews, a great effort.

Port Phillip is ideally suited for yacht racing, although it can be tricky and challenging. To all participants, enjoy the sailing, do your best and most importantly have fun. You have a wonderful opportunity to expand your sailing experience and make lifelong friends.

Welcome to RMYS, please enjoy its facilities, its fantastic location and rich history.

Regards,

Ian Lodewyckx

Stonehaven Cup - History in the Making

After 89 years, the Australian 12 Foot Cadet Dinghy is now being replaced as the equipment platform for the Stonehaven Cup. Generations of teenage sailors have trained, raced, shared fun and adventures, and developed lifelong friendships in the Cadet Dinghy, and through the Stonehaven Cup competition.

12 Foot Cadet Dinghy

The Cadet Dinghy has gone through an extraordinary number of changes over time: from heavy wooden hull through light-weight Western Red Cedar hull to fibreglass hull, from gaff rig to bermudan rig, from fully open boat with no added buoyancy to fore and aft buoyancy tanks and ultimately to fully integrated side buoyancy tanks, from steel centreplate to aluminium alloy centreplate, and from fixed blade rudder to swing blade rudder.

The constant thing in all of this has been the hull, which has preserved its external shape and load carrying capacity. It is the fact that the Cadet Dinghy was designed to carry a team of three adolescents which has been a core distinguishing feature of the design and a great enabler of the social interaction so important to teenagers.

RS Quest

The Quest is very modern, having been designed over 2014 and 2015, and launched into production in November 2015. With its clean lines, white hull, coloured sail patches, and square-topped mainsail, it has a striking, contemporary look.

While it was designed primarily as a three or four crew trainer, the high aspect rig, combined with a large sail area, provides exciting sailing in a moderate wind, and presents handling challenges in a heavy wind.

As a sign of the world-wide rate of sales of these boats, RBYC's first boat "QUESTIONable" has hull number "133", and 18 months later, its most recent acquisition "John Akhurst" has hull number "1472".

Transitioning to the RS Quest

In January 2017, the Stonehaven Cup National Council agreed in principle to the transitioning of the equipment platform from the Cadet Dinghy to the RS Quest, subject to equipment acquisition approvals at each of the competing clubs. It was understood then that the duration of the transition period to the new platform would be determined by the time to acquire the new boats, and that this might take several years.

As it has turned out, the January 2018 regatta became the last Stonehaven Cup to be contested in the Cadet Dinghy. All of the competing clubs have now managed to acquire RS Quests, and so the January 2019 Stonehaven Cup will be the first to be contested in the RS Quest. This is a substantial achievement for the clubs individually and for the competition overall.

Otto A Meik Perpetual Teams Trophy

(Awarded to the best performing team for the series, including the Invitation Races)

Otto Alexander Meik was a member of Royal Melbourne Yacht Squadron from 1943 until his passing in 1979, and Commodore for nine continuous years from 1957 to 1966. He was the Squadron's greatest fleet owner, chartering many of his yachts for others to sail. During this time, he built the Cadet fleet at RMYS with the purchase of 10 dinghies.

Jock Sturrock Memorial Trophy

(Awarded to the line honours winner of the First Invitation Race when run in Victoria)

The late great Jock Sturrock MBE, life member of Royal Brighton commenced his sailing life in the 12 Foot Cadet Dinghy class, and in 1932 became the first Victorian winner of the Stonehaven Cup. His training and experiences in the Cadet dinghy enabled him to progress to Olympic, Admiral's Cup and America's Cup competitions during his lifetime.

It was with great pleasure that the 12 Foot Cadet Dinghy Group at Royal Brighton donated this trophy to the Stonehaven Cup series of races. The trophy will be permanently displayed at Royal Brighton Yacht Club. The winner will be engraved on the trophy board.

Andrew Linacre Memorial Trophy

(Awarded to the winner of the Second Invitation Race)

The trophy presented for the Andrew Linacre Memorial has a wealth of yachting history. It was first presented at the Royal Brighton Yacht Club, Victoria, some 64 years ago as the “Commodore’s Cup” by Andrew’s grandfather, and won by the 21 Footer “Royalist”, sailed by Jock Sturrock’s father. After the passing of Andrew whilst competing in the 1973 Stonehaven Cup as the skipper of “Kittiwake II”, Jock Sturrock graciously provided this cup for John and June Linacre to perpetuate the memory of their son.
